Tara Fleming has been illustrating the Mummers Festival posters for 10 years! You can see them all on display at The Rooms this week and next. Did you know that the mummers illustrated in each poster are inspired by real mummers from the previous year's Parade? Are you in there?

Hot mummer tips for tomorrow's 10th Annual Mummers Parade!

THE ART OF DISGUISE

Mummering is the art of disguise. The origin of the word is rooted in the notion of wearing a mask. Maybe that's why mummers are also called Guisers (as in...disguisers). So when dressing as a mummer you must hide your identity. Here are a few tips:

1. CHANGE YOUR BODY SHAPE. Stuff a pillow in your pants, make a humpback, wear a travel pillow under your shirt around your neck.

2. COVER YOUR FACE! Don't let people see your eyes or your teeth! That's a giveaway! Lace curtains and pillowcases with eye- and mouth-holes are classic covers. Halloween masks work well too.

3. CHANGE YOUR HEIGHT. If you're short, wear a high hat. If you're tall, crouch down when you walk.

4. WEAR CLOTHING YOU WOULDN'T NORMALLY WEAR. Crossdressing is a classic look for mummers. Guys, throw on a dress or a bra outside your clothing. Gals, throw on a huntsman jacket. Or maybe a mix of both? Let's smash those old stereotypes!

5. CHANGE THE WAY YOU WALK AND TALK. The classic mummer speak is to inhale while talking. And the way you walk and dance should change.
